Leather

"It's like Fifty Shades of Grey has permeated the fashion scene!" Stephenson says about "bedroom-to-boardroom" leather looks in unexpected colors and fitted shapes.

Sporty

Perforation, mesh and neoprene bring an athletic vibe to the plethora of "body-sculpted silhouettes" on the runways, says Stephenson. This is not the season to skip the gym!

Digital Prints

These chic fabrics "feel fresh and mixed up, like they're seen through a kaleidoscope lens," says Stephenson. "It's a new approach to print — blurry with a techno twist."

Fringe

No longer just for boho babes, fringe echoes the current mood of "bringing sexy back in an extreme way," says Stephenson.

Drapey

Ballerina-inspired looks with floaty crisscross bodices offer an überfem way to "get your girly on," says Stephenson. "There's a lot of pink out there!"

Fashion WEEK 2012

WATCH OUT

At Marchesa, sponsored by Fiji, TYRA BANKS, KIM KARDASHIAN and Kim's BF, KANYE WEST, rubbed shoulders in the best seats in the house. "Marchesa show was beyond beautiful!" Kim shared afterward.

Mary Alice Stephenson reports.

Tales From the Front Row

An insider's take on the action

MR. MOM

Dapper DAVID BECKHAM held baby Harper while wife Victoria greeted guests backstage at her show — her best yet! Her parents were there, too, but Daddy played nanny for the day.

TOP CROP

JULIANNE HOUGH looked great at Naeem Khan with her new cropped haircut — it's very of the moment, all shagged up. She's so down-to-earth.

HOOP DREAMS

At the Brian Atwood party, HEIDI KLUM (center) kept teasing me about my oversize gold earrings, which were just like hers — but bigger. "I don't think your hoops are big enough tonight!" she joked.

Lust List

Stars tell Life & Style what they can't wait to wear next spring

Narciso Fever

JESSICA ALBA is "obsessed" with Narciso Rodriguez's new handbags and shoes. "They're so awesome!" says Jess, with the designer at the Self magazine party. "His show was incredible."

Prints Charming

"I'm seeing a lot of great prints," said LAUREN CONRAD at the Badgley Mischka show. Her faves? "A little less of a traditional floral and more conversational — they're a little more fun."

Stripe Hype

"I'm a stripe whore, so that's why I love it," KELLY OSBOURNE said about the Marc Jacobs show, sponsored by Fiji, which featured a lineup of bold black-and-white versions of the pattern. "This collection is my everything."

Glam Cam

SARAH HYLAND fell for the gorgeous gowns at Marchesa. She even snapped pix of her faves, including a blue-and-gold number. "It was just beautiful," she sighed. Maybe for the Emmys?
